

Language: Mechanics: Capitalization:

Proper Nouns, Personal Titles, and the Pronoun "I"

Students

Learning Continuum Statements:

Students:

RIT 161-170:

- Capitalizes abbreviated personal and professional titles
- Capitalizes months of the year
- Capitalizes names and initials
- Capitalizes names of geographic locations
- Capitalizes the pronoun "I"

Students:

RIT 171-180:

- Capitalizes abbreviated personal and professional titles
- Capitalizes days of the week
- Capitalizes months of the year
- Capitalizes names and initials
- Capitalizes names of geographic locations
- Capitalizes names of holidays
- Capitalizes names of languages and nationalities
- Capitalizes names of organizations, schools, and businesses
- Capitalizes the pronoun "I"

Students:

RIT 181-190:

- Capitalizes abbreviated personal and professional titles
- Capitalizes days of the week
- Capitalizes months of the year
- Capitalizes names and initials
- Capitalizes names of geographic locations
- Capitalizes names of languages and nationalities
- Capitalizes names of organizations, schools, and businesses
- Capitalizes the pronoun "I"

Students:

RIT 191-200:

- Capitalizes abbreviated personal and professional titles
- Capitalizes days of the week
- Capitalizes months of the year
- Capitalizes names and initials
- Capitalizes names of geographic locations
- Capitalizes names of historical periods and events
- Capitalizes names of languages and nationalities
- Capitalizes names of organizations, schools, and businesses
- Recognizes correct/incorrect capitalization of professional or official titles in context

Students:

RIT 201-210:

- Capitalizes days of the week
- Capitalizes names of geographic locations
- Capitalizes names of historical periods and events
- Capitalizes names of languages and nationalities
- Capitalizes names of organizations, schools, and businesses
- Recognizes correct/incorrect capitalization of professional or official titles in context

Students:

RIT 211-220:

- Capitalizes names of geographic locations
- Capitalizes names of languages and nationalities
- Capitalizes names of organizations, schools, and businesses
- Recognizes correct/incorrect capitalization of kinship names in context
- Recognizes correct/incorrect capitalization of professional or official titles in context

Students:

RIT 221-230:

- Capitalizes names of languages and nationalities