

Language: Mechanics: Punctuation:

Ending Punctuation

Students

Learning Continuum Statements:

Students:

RIT 161-170:

- Recognizes which punctuation marks can be used as ending punctuation
- Uses a period to punctuate a sentence
- Uses a question mark to punctuate a sentence

Students:

RIT 171-180:

- Detects an error in ending punctuation
- Recognizes which punctuation marks can be used as ending punctuation
- Uses a period to punctuate a sentence
- Uses a question mark to punctuate a sentence
- Uses an exclamation mark to punctuate a sentence

Students:

RIT 181-190:

- Detects an error in ending punctuation
- Recognizes which punctuation marks can be used as ending punctuation
- Uses a period to punctuate a sentence
- Uses a question mark to punctuate a sentence
- Uses an exclamation mark to punctuate a sentence

Students:

RIT 191-200:

- Detects an error in ending punctuation
- Understands that either a period or exclamation mark may end the same sentence
- Understands the purpose of end punctuation
- Uses a period to punctuate a sentence
- Uses a question mark to punctuate a sentence
- Uses an exclamation mark to punctuate a sentence

Students:

RIT 201-210:

- Detects an error in ending punctuation
- Understands that a period punctuates a statement that contains an embedded question
- Uses a period to punctuate a sentence
- Uses a question mark to punctuate a sentence
- Uses an exclamation mark to punctuate a sentence

Students:

RIT 211-220:

- Understands that a period punctuates a statement that contains an embedded question
- Uses an exclamation mark to punctuate a sentence