Inferences, Conclusions, Predictions

Students	Learning Continuum Statements:
Students:	RIT 171-180: • Compares and contrasts ideas described in informational text • Makes inferences about the author of informational text • Makes inferences from informational text • Makes predictions from a set of directions • Makes predictions from informational text
Students:	RIT 181-190: • Compares and contrasts ideas described in informational text • Draws conclusions from informational text • Infers the word that completes predictable text • Makes inferences about the author of informational text • Makes inferences from definitions • Makes inferences from informational text • Makes inferences from literary nonfiction • Makes predictions from informational text
Students:	RIT 191-200: • Compares and contrasts ideas described in informational text • Determines intended audience in advertising • Draws conclusions from a set of directions • Draws conclusions from informational text • Draws conclusions from procedural or technical text • Makes inferences from definitions • Makes inferences from informational text • Makes inferences from literary nonfiction • Makes predictions from informational text • Makes predictions from literary text
Students:	RIT 201-210: • Analyzes implicit relationships between ideas in informational text • Compares and contrasts ideas described in informational text • Determines intended audience in advertising • Draws conclusions from informational text • Draws conclusions from procedural or technical text • Makes inferences from a set of directions • Makes inferences from definitions • Makes inferences from informational text

- Makes inferences from literary nonfiction
- Makes predictions from informational text
- Makes predictions from literary nonfiction

Students:	RIT 211-220:
	- Analyzes implicit relationships between ideas in informational text
	- Compares and contrasts ideas described in informational text
	- Determines intended audience of informational text
	- Draws conclusions from informational text
	- Draws conclusions from procedural or technical text
	- Infers sequence in informational text
	- Makes inferences from a set of directions
	- Makes inferences from informational text
	- Makes inferences from literary nonfiction
	- Makes predictions from informational text
	- Makes predictions from literary nonfiction

Students:	RIT 221-230:
	- Analyzes implicit relationships between ideas in informational text
	- Determines intended audience of informational text
	- Draws conclusions based on multiple informational texts
	- Draws conclusions from informational text
	- Draws conclusions from procedural or technical text
	- Makes inferences from informational text
	- Makes inferences from literary nonfiction

Students:	RIT 231-240:
	- Draws conclusions from informational text
	- Draws conclusions from procedural or technical text
	- Draws conclusions using specialized reference materials
	- Makes inferences from informational text